

We are grateful that we successfully embarked on our 2022 with our Annual Plan for CHAD Phase-out Stage. Even though the pandemic delayed our project phase-out stage, we are very enthusiastic to continue and turn over to our local leaders the CHAD remaining projects after 2 years. The Lord blessed us with people and resources to continue our journey in this community development here in Cambodia.

Many communities we visited last year, that have problems, we're able to renew. There were also communities that still need to talk to have a resolution about the status of their group. During this quarter, our team focus on: 1. Project Renewal; 2. Restructuring the group's leadership and By-Laws; and, 3. Empowering local project management with our CSCC and LSCC.

CHAD is CERTIFIED GRATEFUL for

Project Renewal of those community partners we have, who experienced difficulties during the last 2 years to continue and grow in their group projects because of pandemic effects on their livelihood.

Problem Assessment and Resolution of the projects that will help the CHAD to identify the factors that can help them to grow and continue.

Beauty of Partnership that our community partners developed not only with CHAD and church but also with another NGO.

MEET HEUR CHATH, OUR MODEL FARMER IN RUSSEY PREY VILLAGE IN SVAY RIENG PROVINCE

CHAD is CERTIFIED GRATEFUL for

Recovery of our team when Covid-Omicron Variant infected some of the GBGM staff.

We were able to distribute children's clothes to one of our community partners in Pailin province.

Even though their group experienced difficulties during the pandemic and other factors in their group leadership, Heur Chath is continuing to use all the learnings he got from CHAD for his Chicken Raising. He has now more than 50 chickens. The market for chicken decreased due to the pandemic. He cannot sell his chicken at a good price, but having this livelihood, he can provide food for his family. His wife is very diligent that she finds also additional resources to improve their livelihood. They help each other improve their Chicken Raising and making broomsticks to sell. When we visited them, we saw that even though difficulties arise, he never gave up to grow and develop his Chicken Raising. He is enjoying it and hoping for more progress and opportunities amidst of pandemic. This is the beauty of endurance. When the situation does not work according to our plan, when we have the endurance to face challenges, progress will come out. Development may be little or big, the important is we don't stop.
