

Our 3rd quarter was blessed with many opportunities of facilitating training and hosting visitors to learn from our projects here in Cambodia. We are happy that last September, we met for the first time our CHAD bigger family in Southeast Asia. CHAD Laos and Vietnam Team visited us for a week to learn from our 2 graduated communities of CHAD Cambodia programs. It was a wonderful conversation that even from the downfall moments to the successful stage of Phum Sre village in Kampong Thom province and Phum Veal village in Kampong Cham, we all learned. We are also blessed as our visitors also shared their experiences in their community project groups. Also, we are blessed again to learn from Mr. Ken Cruz (CHAD Cambodia's former Team Leader) as he led the facilitation and consultation during the study tour.

MEET KUNNA RORNG, OUR YOUNGEST PARTICIPANT IN CAPACITY BUILDING PROJECT GROUP TRAINING

“This training helps me strengthen myself and my group to walk together in unity and strengthen one another to reach our goal and make our group successful,” Kunna said during the closing of our training. Kunna is the youngest participant in our 1st run of Capacity Building for Project Group Leaders. She is part of the Saving Group Committee in Loung Leu village in Banteay Meanchey Province. It was amazing to see young people being part of our community project. She is only 17 years old and their group is mostly composed of young people from their church. She wrote during our planning that one of their goal is that all of the young people in their group will able to continue their studies in college. This is one reason why they made their group to save for their future studies. This testimony encouraged us that our project can also be led by young generations and when their worldviews in life will change in their younger years, they can make an impact and great influence on the future.
