General Goal:

 We strive to give hope to the hopeless, shine light to those in darkness, bring Christ to the people and share the love of God with all.

Christmas Celebration

On December 17, 2023, our school radiated with the joy of the Christmas season as we came together to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ. Rev. Andrew delivered a heartfelt message on glory and peace, inspiring everyone present. Families, including local residents, joined us for this special occasion, creating a warm and inclusive atmosphere.

Together, we rejoiced in the true meaning of Christmas, spreading the message of peace and goodwill to all. May the spirit of Christmas continue to unite us in love and harmony throughout the year.

Christian Value Class

The Christian Value class is not only about nurturing a connection with God but also about embracing our Cambodian culture and traditional morals.

Moral & Social

Children learn the importance of mutual respect, valuing the elderly, extending help to peers at school, assisting their parents at home, practicing forgiveness, and embodying the qualities of a good child.

This transformative class takes place three times a week—every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday—from 10 am to 11 am. Combining students from Grades 1, 2, and 3, the class boasts an attendance ranging from 30 to 50 children. We are delighted to witness the diverse and enthusiastic participation of our students as they embrace the values that shape their character and contribute to a harmonious community.

Empowering Youth Volunteer

In 2023, our flourishing Youth Volunteer Training programs expanded the Computer Class from 3 to 8 students, emphasizing teacher training for CSCFO's sustainability.

A pivotal moment in December saw a student actively teaching, demonstrating the tangible impact of our initiatives.

Language Classes, led by dedicated volunteers in English and Korean, not only enhance language skills but also contribute to income generation, fostering CSCFO's self-sufficiency.

These endeavors embody our commitment to empowering future leaders, offering meaningful opportunities for students who've temporarily paused their academic pursuits.

 Your generosity makes the world a better place.

Student's Parent meeting and fellowship:

We completed 5 meetings/fellowships with our student's parents. We had this meeting/fellowship to gain closure relationship with parent. This fellowship helped the parent to realize the important of the cooperation between the school and the parent. In the meeting/fellowship, we shared about the student activity, and study situation to the parent. And we asked the parent to help their children study at home.

However, we updated each other about our students. we also shared the concern to one another, when we noticed that our student did something wrong in the class or absent from the class.

Empowering our Education Team

This year, we focused on strengthening the capacity of our CSCFO Education team through various activities, enhancing their teaching skills, class management/administration, and teamwork.

Three skill-building sessions were conducted, benefiting 11 team members, including teachers, the principal, the CSCFO Director, Vice-director, and volunteers.

Our coaching and mentoring initiative involved 12 monthly meetings where the team shared achievements, discussed challenges, and collaborated on solutions and planning. During these sessions, we provided valuable coaching to overcome obstacles and improve class organization and management. To ensure continuous improvement, we closely monitored the team's activities through daily class teaching and group Telegram reporting. Our collaborative approach, including emergency face-to-face meetings for specific cases, facilitated a supportive environment for ongoing progress.
